De Jeugdige emigranten naar de Kaap, een vergeten hoofdstuk uit de geschiedenis van het Nederlands Protestantse Reveil.

Tussen 1856-1860 zijn 378 Nederlandse tieners tussen de 11 en 18 jr. naar de kaapkolonie gegaan om daar te worden opgevoed door hen onbekende vaders en moeders.

De overtocht werd betaald door degene die in de lijst baas worden genoemd en de plaats is de plaats waaruit de tieners vanuit Nederland in eerste instantie terecht kwamen.

Alleen de 1e en 3e expeditie strekten zich uit tot Graaff-Reinet, waar 106 van de 378 kinderen zijn terecht gekomen.

De jeugdige emigranten werden in 5 groepen verdeeld.

exp. nr. 1 vertrok op 4-9-1854 met het Barkschip Zaltbommel uit Hellevoetsluis.

exp. nr. 2 vertrok op 4-8-1857 met het schip Joan uit Hellevoetsluis.

exp. nr. 3 vertrok op 9-8-1858 met het schip Henriette

exp. nr. 4 vertrok eind oktober 1858 met het schip Bulgerstein.

exp. nr. 5 vertrok op 2-2-1860 met de Provincie Drenthe, vanuit Den Helder.

Dit is de enige vd Klashorst die er tussen staat.

Notes:

"Oupa Maans het vir die Spoorwee op Oudtshoorn gewerk. In 1929 het hy na Suidwes verhuis waar hy eers op Keetmanshoop en toe op Luderitz afgetree het. Hy het 'n plaas op Otjiwarongo gekoop. Sy oudste seun, Johannes Hermanus, het op Oudtshoorn agtergebly maar die ander 13 kinders is almal saam Suidwes toe. Sy jongste kind, Martin, het in boerdery belangestel en het op die plaas gebly. Daar was 'n tyd lank onmin tussen hom en sy vader toe hy met n getroude Duitse vrou wou trou."
 HJ Penderis, Tulbagh, Feb 1998.

The baptismal record of Hermanus Johannes PENDERUS (note spelling) gives the witnesses to the baptism as Johannes Hendrikus Augustinus Penderus and Maria Penderus born Wesselman. This is significant since we have no other record of his grandmother being in South Africa at any time.

Notes:

"It is not certain to what extent he manufactured copper or brass articles while in Worcester but it does seem certain that he learnt his trade there. At the age of 20 he left Worcester and later settled in Oudtshoorn, in 1893, where he is reputed to have made brandy stills for wine farmers in the area. Circumstances forced him to leave Oudtshoorn in 1917 (for Keetmanshoop in SWA where he worked as a copper and tin smith on the Railways) and he only returned in 1922 when he started a small workshop on the corner of St.Saviour and Adderley Streets. It is said that he manufactured chamber-sticks, drinking mugs, konfore, dishes, saucepans etc., but no marked articles have as yet been found. He retired c.1936 and died at Kroonstad in 1938" (in the home of his daughter, Mrs Susanna van Wyk. He was buried in the old cemetery at Oudtshoorn)

Was born on the farm "Boesmansvlei" (now "Wilgevlei or "Bo Erf") in the Worcester district.

"H.G.K. learnt the copper-smith's trade as an apprentice in the workshop of F. Staal in Robertson. Once qualified he set up his own workshop at 60 Durban Street, Worcester, next door to his parents." Marius le Roux, The Cape Copper-Smiths, Stellenbosch Museum, 1981.

On baptismal record at DRC archives his name is given as "Gerhard Karel". It was well known that the "scriba" of the DRC at Worcester at that time made many mistakes since he was often under the influence of alcohol. This mistake caused H.G.K. a lot of trouble when in later life an endowment policy fell due and his only proof of identity was the faulty baptismal certificate.

Lost his eye as a 17-year-old and wore a glass eye the rest of his life.
 The incident happened while they were sitting on opposite ends of the kitchen table when he was teasing Hanno by throwing things at him while he was covering school books. Hanno retaliated by throwing the first thing to come to hand, a scissor, at Nijhoff It struck him in the eye. His father took him by bicycle in pouring rain to the doctor.
